

County of Dinwiddie

Board of Supervisors

Donald L. Haraway
Daniel Lee
Doretha E. Moody
Harrison A. Moody
John V. Talmage

County Administrator

W. Kevin Massengill

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE July 20, 2011

Contact: Greg Reid
Economic Development Director
804.265.1233

Tammie J. Collins
Division Chief of Planning and Community Development
804.469.4500 x2110

Spiniello Company Purchases former Phillip Morris Building

DINWIDDIE - County Administrator W. Kevin Massengill welcomed the announcement today that Spiniello Co., a leader in underground infrastructure construction, will establish an operation in Dinwiddie County. The facility will produce cured-in-place-pipe (CIPP) liners to repair underground utilities, ultimately creating 35 new jobs.

As a leader in the CIPP industry and an established business since 1922, the former Phillip Morris building near McKenney matched Spiniello's current and future needs.

"It is always significant when a company establishes its first operation in Virginia," said Jim Cheng, Virginia Secretary of Commerce and Trade. "Dinwiddie County is the right fit for Spiniello, and 35 new employment opportunities is welcome news for the region."

Headquartered in Livingston, New Jersey, Spiniello has been at the forefront of underground infrastructure construction for nearly a century. Spiniello has established a client base that spans the public and private sectors, serving businesses of every size and industry, municipal, state and federal government agencies, every branch of the U.S. military, public and private water utilities, and a range of global organizations, including the World Bank. Spiniello focuses on making every project as safe, efficient and economical as possible. The company has a long history of innovation, applying the latest technologies, construction methods and safety practices within its operations.

After many months of extensive evaluation, Spiniello Companies, headquartered in Livingston, New Jersey has chosen to relocate a significant portion of its cured in place pipe business near McKenney Virginia.

EJ Solimine, Executive Vice President of Spiniello Companies confirms that after a thorough review of several possible locations throughout the country, Virginia has a lot to offer citing "with an abundant labor force, Virginia appears to be an ideal climate for economic growth. Virginia offers an excellent opportunity to increase our cured in place business."

In addition to the cured in place pipe business, Spiniello Companies has completed a large scale slip lining project in Henrico County and has another large diameter slip lining project under contract in the same area. Spiniello is also under contract to complete an additional utility contract and is actively pursuing more work in the region. "We feel confident our relocation to Virginia will become a significant investment to our company's growth in the future."

The Virginia Economic Development Partnership worked with Dinwiddie County and Virginia's Gateway Region to secure the project for Virginia. Through its Virginia Jobs Investment Program, the Virginia Department of Business Assistance (VDBA) will provide funding and services to support the company's recruitment and training activities.

"Dinwiddie County is pleased with Spiniello's decision to invest in the County," said The Honorable Doretha Edwards Moody, Chair of the Dinwiddie County Board of Supervisors. "This investment will help diversify the County's tax base as well as provide employment opportunities for our citizens."